

NH Employment Security has free services, resources, and tools to help you with the entire job search process! We are interested in any comments you have for improving our services. Visit us to find a better job, a new job, or your first job!

NHES Resource Centers

A wide range of services, tools and resources are available for anyone in the NH Employment Security (NHES) Resource Centers, an integral part of the NH WORKS System.

Newspapers, magazines, books, videos and many other publications are available. You may use work stations to view videos, work on your resume or cover letter, and research employers or careers. Please ask the Center Coordinator for assistance with any employment related activity offered.

● Employment Opportunities

Help Wanted Ads - Ads are located on the newspaper rack in the Center or can be accessed via the Internet.

Job Matching System - Our job match system is available on PCs in the centers. The system matches applicant resume registrations with employer job listings using skills, job requirements or other related data.

Internet Access - Access to other employment related sites on the Internet and to NH Employment Security's Web Site. We link to over 150 sites for job seekers. Our Web Site averages 860,000 unique visitors a year.

● Career Development & Job Search Assistance

Resume/Cover Letters - Use a PC to access various software applications designed especially for your ease in resume/cover letter preparation. We also have numerous books and videos available to help you with the preparation of your resumes and cover letters. You can print your resume and make copies.

Video Library/TV/VCR - A TV, VCR and headset is available to view employment related videos.

Library - The most recent employment related books are available in our library which cover topics from resumes/cover letters, networking, the Internet and career research.

O*NET - Use O*NET for career information, transferable skills assistance, information on colleges and technical schools and financial aid data.

Are you a veteran?

If you are a veteran, ask for a Veteran's Representative. They provide services and information just for veterans. NHES provides preference in the referral of veterans to job orders.

Employment Counseling

If you would like one-on-one assistance, ask for an Employment Counselor. Employment Counselors help with job/career and vocational choice, change, adjustment, direction, and transition.

Sign up for a Job Search Workshop!

In most offices these free workshops are held once a month. Topics covered include: resume and cover letter writing; the job application; the job interview; interviewing skills and techniques; using the Internet as a job search tool; networking and exploring other leads in addition to the newspapers; and the entire job search process.

Unemployment Compensation

If you are out of work, or if your hours have been reduced, it is your right to open a claim and file for Unemployment Compensation Benefits. File on-line at <http://claims.nhes.state.nh.us> If you do not have Internet access, please visit your local office to file. If you are filing an Interstate Claim (a claim against NH, if you worked in NH, but live in another state, or if you are filing against another state because you worked in another state and/or recently moved here), please call 1-800-266-2252.

Economic & Labor Market Information

We have many economic and labor market information publications which you may find valuable in your job search. Most are found on-line on our Web Site at: www.nhes.state.nh.us, including our economic and labor market information database, NHetwork.

NHetwork provides information about: average hourly wages for occupations; licensing for certain occupations; employers names and addresses; projections for industries and occupations; population data; educational and career information; property tax information; and area profiles.
